

INCREASING YOUR RANGE

These exercises will help you expand your range. Every instrument has different range needs. All students need to increase embouchure strength and understand the mechanics of their instrument. The lines on this page are called exercises for a very good reason. They need to be worked on in order for you to get stronger. Always remember---there is no magic involved in increasing your range, just hard work and repetition.

(Not all of these exercises will be in unison because different instruments have different needs.)

Brass players. Lip slurring is a great way to build your lip strength and flexibility. Ask your teacher about lip slurring.
